

Horse Chakra Healing workshop with Margrit Coates

At the Training Centre of Be&Become,
Rheezerveenseweg 6, Heemerveen, Overijssel

A one day workshop with Margrit Coates . Learn how to help your horse through the chakra energy system.

Margrit Coates is an expert in horse charkas and had also discovered that horses have an eighth major chakra. This is a very important energy centre and which connects the human to horse on a very deep level.

During the workshop you will learn the significance of the chakra system on horses and how through you can work with them to help improve your relationship with your horse. These are some of the things that you will experience on the day:

- How to connect to your horse's heartmind, through the heart chakra and receive a special message.
- Through the Brow chakra open up your intuitive skills and learn how to hear what the horse is saying
- Feel energy moving through the sacral chakra and help to rebalance the horse and help with muscular skeletal problems
- Make emotional connections to the horse to help you bond
- Raise your consciousness and become closer to horses
- Healing with charkas can help with emotional as well as physical conditions.

Programme

Saturday | 9.15 am – 4.30 pm

in a clinic offering natural therapies for animals including horses. Her partners are a homeopathic veterinary surgeon and a chartered veterinary physiotherapist.

Margrit is a member of several organisations including the NFSH (The Healing Trust) and the British Register of Complementary Practitioners.

Margrit herself has taken courses with vets, osteopaths, chartered physiotherapists and scientists who specialise in energy medicine. Margrit has also studied animal cranio sacral therapy with Gail Wetzler of the Upledger Institute, USA. She often works with world renowned veterinary physiotherapist Amanda Sutton and has worked alongside the late Anthony Pusey, an outstanding and pioneering equine osteopath.

For humans Margrit is qualified in reflexology, aromatherapy, cranio sacral therapy, massage including manual lymphatic drainage, and of course healing.

Margrit is frequently asked by vets to see horses to offer an insight into a horse's problems. She recently took part in a clinic in Ireland, where she worked with an acupuncture vet and an equine chiropractor to help their treatments reach horses on a deeper level. All of this helps Margrit to have a good understanding of other modalities.

As well as running animal healing courses for the NFSH, Margrit has taught at the College of Psychic Studies in London and the Harry Edwards Healing Sanctuary. She is a part-time lecturer in animal healing to post graduate students in the Department Of Animal Behaviour, Southampton University.

Margrit has taught her specialist courses around the world to vets, vet nurses, equine physiotherapists/osteopaths/chiropractors/dentists/massage therapists and body workers etc.
